

“Summa Health is a gift to the community. If they weren’t that close, she would not have made it.”

– Steven Oswald
Husband of Neurology Patient

Right Care. Right Time. Right Place. Summa Health Neuroscience Institute

A life-threatening brain injury can strike without warning. And when it does, it’s critical to have the right care at the right time. For Susan Oswald, the Summa Health Neuroscience Institute was the right place. Our Neuroscience Institute offers a multidisciplinary approach to treating aneurysms and other types of bleeding in the brain.

“The ability to pull all our teams together to get her through the rollercoaster is really why Susan’s case is so wonderful for us,” says Dr. Susana Bowling, Medical Director, Neuroscience Institute.

For Susan’s full story, visit summahealth.org/annual-report/2018.

